After deal with Airtel, Apple set for music & TV streaming war

MUNSIF VENGATTIL & ADITYA KALRA New Delhi, September 2

APPLE'S PARTNERSHIP WITH India's second-largest telecom firm will give the iPhone maker a sorely needed boost in a content market where it lags far behind the likes of Spotify and Walt Disney.

The US technology giant, working to boost revenue globally from services including apps, payments and media, is set to offer free music and video streaming to many of Bharti Airtel's 281 million customers.

The deal is likely to greatly expand the user base for Apple TV+ and Apple Music in a country where Apple has long emphasised the manufacturing side of business to diversify its supply chain beyond China. Apple builds many of its iPhones in India yet its handsets make up just 6% of the country's 690 million smartphones, versus around 2% in 2019, Counterpoint Research data showed.

"The move speaks of Apple's ambitions for India," said Nitesh Kripalani, former head of Amazon Prime Video in India."The strategy is a time-tested method to catapult presence in markets it considers important."

In the US, Apple has offered Apple Music for free via some Verizon mobile data plans since 2019, and its Apple TV+ will feature in a Comcast streaming bundle from May.

In India, Apple Music will become available to premium users of Airtel's Wynk music app, which will eventually close. Postpaid Airtel contracts give about 7 million subscribers access to the ad-free version of Wynk but only a small fraction use it, said a telecom industry source who declined to be named as the figures are confidential. Neither Apple nor Airtel

Music battleground

Apple Music is more tailored to the Indian market compared with the mostly English Apple TV+ with content including Bollywood and regional-language songs, though its library is smaller than Spotify's, said Counterpoint co-founder Neil Shah.

Spotify has some 3 million paid users in India, Gaana has 1.4 million, Wynk 500,000 and Apple Music 200,000, said an industry source. Neither Spotify nor Gaana responded to requests for comment outside of regular business hours. Overall, only around 7.5 million people paid for audio streaming services in India last year out of about 185 million users of ad-supported and adfree apps, showed data from industry group FICCI and consultants EY.

Airtel will pay Apple a peruser fee "significantly" lower than the monthly $1.20 charged each for Apple TV+ and Apple Music in India, said the telecom industry source. In return, it will save millions of rupees in licensing as it looks to shut Wynk and use Apple Music to boost revenue and improve customer loyalty, said a second telecom source. "Airtel realised its strength is distribution, not content creation," it said.

Video streaming

Apple is a small player in Indian video streaming, with Counterpoint estimating it has fewer than 1 million users. Disney+ Hotstar is the market leader with 38 million users, while estimates showed Netflix has around 10 million. Hinting at the market's potential, Netflix has repeatedly said it targets 100 million users, without fixing a time frame.

Apple TV+ is known for original series such as "The Morning Show" and "Slow Horses" howeverrivals including Netflix and Disney feature more Hindi content with Bollywood actors and even regional-language films.

Disney and Reliance Industries' JioCinema also stream cricket - India's most popular sport - and the two companies are merging their Indian media assets to create country's biggest entertainment firm. Airtel, which as telecom provider lags only Reliance Jio by subscribers, plans to offerpackages with several months' free access to Apple TV+, said the second-largest telecom's source. —REUTERS PRESS TRUST OF INDIA His victory on Monday not only marked a personal INDIA'S NITESH KUMAR clinched his maiden gold medal at the Paralympics, defeating Great Britain's Daniel Bethell in a gripping men's singles SL3 badminton final here on Monday.

The 29-year-old from Haryana showcased incredible resilience and tactical brilliance, overcoming Tokyo silver medallist Bethell in a nailbiting contest that lasted an hour and 20 minutes, with the final scoreline reading 21-14 18-2123-21.

my mind how I will win. But I was not thinking about what I will do after I win, I pushed that feeling away," he said. The final was a test of endurance and skill, with both players engaging in excruciating rallies, including a nearly threeminute rally of 122 shots in the opening game.

Nitesh's sharp reverse hits, delicate drop shots, and polished net play kept Bethell on his toes throughout the match. The opening game saw Nitesh trailing 6-9

He then surged ahead to an 18-14 lead, eventually sealing the game when Bethell sent the shuttle wide. Nitesh could have won in straight games as he was leading 14-12 at one stage but Bethell staged a comeback, forcing the contest to a decider. In the final game, the tension was palpable as the two athletes matched each other point for point, moving from 8-8 to 19-19. Nitesh had the first championship point at 20-19 but couldn't convert it. Bethell, too, had a match point at 21-20 but faltered at the net. DISCUS THROWER YOGESH Kathuniya's parents wanted him to become a doctor, but there was a twist of fate when at the age of 9 he fell in a park and could not stand up. The doctors said he had Guillain-Barre Syndrome, a neurological disorder that hampers body movement and results in muscle weakness. He may not be able to walk again, they felt. But after years of treatment, including physiotherapy, he could stand using a crutch.
